Where Legends Meet

Some of America's most legendary figures traveled this territory, including Lewis and Clark, Sakakawea, Sitting Bull, and Theodore Roosevelt. Today, Watford City and the surrounding area offer legendary travel experiences. Modern-day explorers can put some miles on their hiking boots in the pristine Theodore Roosevelt National Park, make a splash in a kayak on Lake Sakakawea or Tobacco Gardens Marina & Resort, or time travel to Fort Union Trading Post and the earthlodge villages of the Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara people.

The McKenzie County Tourism team makes meeting and event planning easier with:

- Connection to local vendor services
- Promotion of your meeting or event
- Supplemental marketing materials (i.e., restaurant, shopping, and hotel information; visitor guides and maps)
- McKenzie County swag (pens, lapel pins, notebooks, etc.) for your guests
- Creation of special activities like pub crawls and park tours
- Promotional e-newsletter for your guests featuring event highlights, hotels and dining, and area attractions
- Customized online coupons and community scavenger hunts

Why Watford City?

Meeting planners know that a successful event demands more than just a great place to meet. McKenzie County offers exceptional meetings spaces, new hotels, state-of-the-art audio-visual capabilities, affordable rates, and remarkable places to discover and explore.
